Vuzix Reports Record Smart Glasses Sales in Q1 2023

- Revenue up 67% year-over-year and 44% quarter-over-quarter

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 10, 2023 - Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI) (“Vuzix” or the “Company”), a leading supplier of Smart Glasses and Augmented Reality (AR) technologies and products, today reported its first quarter results for the three months ended March 31, 2023.

“2023 is off to a strong start driven by record smart glasses sales, which increased 67% year-over-year largely due to sales channel growth and increased customer adoption in North America that has effectively multiplied our salesforce in the US and other core strategic regions,” said Paul Travers, President and CEO. “During the quarter, we made strong progress in terms of product development, technology advancement and new business engagements. On the OEM side of our business, we continue to see an influx of customer interest including a growing number of requests for quotes associated with defense, consumer and enterprise focused customers, all of whom are interested in our waveguide and display engine solutions.”

First Quarter 2023 Financial Results

For the three months ended March 31, 2023, total revenues increased by 67% to $4.2 million versus $2.5 million for the comparable period in 2022. The increase in total revenues was due to higher product sales and specifically significantly higher unit sales of M400 smart glasses. No engineering services revenues were booked in the current or prior period.

There was an overall gross profit of $0.9 million or 21% of revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2023 as compared to $0.5 million or 19% for the same period in 2022. This improvement was due to significantly higher product sales.

Research and Development expense was essentially flat at $3.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2023 as compared to the prior year period.

Selling and Marketing expense was $2.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2023, versus $2.0 million for the comparable 2022 period, an increase of approximately 26%. This increase was primarily due to higher salary and benefits expenses associated with increased headcount as compared to the previous year’s period.

General and Administrative expense for the three months ended March 31, 2023 was $5.1 million versus $5.5 million for the comparable 2022 period, a decrease of approximately 6%. The decline was primarily due to a decrease in non-cash stock-based compensation expense related to the Company’s LTIP (long-term performance-based equity incentive plan).

The net loss decreased for the three months ended March 31, 2023 to $10.2 million or $0.16 cents per share versus a net loss of $10.5 million or $0.16 for the comparable period in 2022.

The net cash flows used in operating activities for the first quarter of 2023 was $4.2 million as compared to a loss of $6.4 million for the first quarter of 2022. As of March 31, 2023, the Company maintained cash and cash equivalents of $63.2 million and an overall working capital position of $67.0 million.

Management Outlook

“Our bullish outlook for 2023 remains unchanged. For the full year, we have a strong book of business with identified opportunities, representing large deals and cornerstone customers on the enterprise and OEM side of our business that we expect to convert over the course of the calendar year. We also see substantial opportunity on the OEM/engineering services side of our business related to new programs for defense, consumers and enterprise. As a result, we expect to achieve record overall revenues in 2023 fueled by stronger sales of core smart glasses, OEM products and engineering services, and SaaS solutions within our Moviynt subsidiary,” said Mr. Travers.

“Although we are less than halfway through Q2, we are currently expecting another strong quarter that we expect will result in robust year-over-year growth in smart glasses products and solution sales in Q2. Our OEM business, which includes engineering services and waveguide and display engine sales, continues to gain momentum such that it will positively contribute to our top-line in Q2,” concluded Mr. Travers.
