Vuzix Reports First Quarter 2026 Results

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 14, 2026 - Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: YUZI), ("Vuzix" or, the "Company"), a leading supplier of AI-powered smart glasses, waveguides and Augmented Reality (AR) technologies, today reported its first quarter results for the three months ended March 31, 2026.

"Q1 2026 marked an important step in Vuzix' transition toward a broader technology and solutions model," said Paul Travers, President and Chief Executive Officer of Vuzix. "Our branded enterprise smart glasses business continues to generate revenue, customer insight and market credibility, while our growing focus on OEM smart glasses solutions, waveguides and display systems is expanding the role Vuzix can play across the smart glasses ecosystem. During the quarter, we continued expanding our plant floor manufacturing capacity to better support the increasing number of OEM, defense, and waveguide development programs now moving through the Company. These ongoing upgrades are designed to improve throughput, reduce development cycle times, minimize manufacturing changeovers, and allow Vuzix to manage multiple advanced programs simultaneously as a broader set of opportunities move toward production."

The following table compares condensed elements of the Company's unaudited summarized Consolidated Statements of Operations data for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively:

First Quarter 2026 Financial Results

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, total revenues decreased by 12% to $1.4 million versus $1.6 million for the comparable period in 2025. The decrease in total revenues was due to lower product sales and specifically reduced unit sales of M400 smart glasses. Engineering services revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2026 was relatively flat at $0.3 million versus the prior year's comparable quarter.

There was an overall gross loss of $0.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to a gross loss of $0.3 million for the comparable 2025 period. The increased gross loss was primarily due to lower total sales as compared to the comparable 2025 period.

Research and Development expense was $3.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 versus $2.6 million for the comparable 2025 period, an increase of approximately 16%. This increase was largely due to higher wage costs due to headcount increases and higher depreciation expense related to new manufacturing equipment currently being used primarily for R&D purposes.

Selling and Marketing expense was relatively flat at approximately $1.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

General and Administrative expense for the three months ended March 31, 2025 was $2.1 million versus $4.0 million for the comparable 2025 period, a decrease of approximately 46%. This decrease was largely due to a $1.7 million decline in non-cash stock-based compensation expense.

For the first quarter ended March 31, 2026, the net loss attributable to common shareholders was $7.1 million or $0.09 per share as compared to a loss of $8.6 million or $0.11 per share for the first quarter of 2025.

The cash net flows used in operating activities was $5.6M for the first quarter of 2026 versus $3.5M for the comparable 2025 period.

Management Outlook

“As we move through 2026, our focus remains on building a broader and more diversified business across ODM/OEM custom smart glasses programs, defense and government agency initiatives, waveguide development and display system relationships,” said Mr. Travers. “We believe defense and security-related opportunities are becoming an increasingly important part of the strategic landscape for Vuzix, where our U.S.-based waveguide design and manufacturing capabilities can be a meaningful differentiator. Our branded products will continue to play an important role by supporting customer engagement, validating use cases and enabling broader ecosystem relationships. At the same time, advances in hardware, AI and platform ecosystems continue to support the evolution of the smart glasses market, and Vuzix intends to continue investing in waveguide innovation and strategic relationships positioned to capitalize on these opportunities.”
